

Please enter your own product, service or development, or nominate your favourite example from another organisation.

The organizers clearly encourage the global bioplastics community to participate. However, the winning company must send a representative to Vienna/Austria on 01 December 2020 to receive the award.

Entry Details (please use separate sheet)

Your entry should say:

1. Name and details of the company or person that should win the award
2. What the product, service or development is and does
3. Why you think this product, service or development should win an award
4. What your (or the proposed) company or organisation does

Your entry should not exceed 500 words (approx one page) and may also be supported with photographs, samples, marketing brochures and/or technical documentation. The five finalists should be prepared to provide a 30 second video clip about the product or service.

If you send your entry by mail please include a copy of the entry form to help us to identify it.

Completed entries should be sent to:
